The North Carolina State Board of Elections is comprised of 5 members appointed by the Governor. 3 members are from the Governor's party and 2 are from the other major party. Other states have a board of elections comprised of equal number of members from each of the 2 major parties and two appointed executive directors, one from each of the major parties.

With that information, do you agree or disagree with the following statement: "Switching from North Carolina's more partisan election board make-up to a new style of board with equal representation from the two major parties would help North Carolina administer elections and oversee campaign finance violations in a more fair and impartial manner.?"
